

Georgia Pacific Center Corporate Headquarters Building Atlanta, Georgia

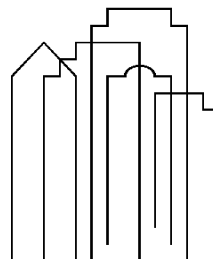

This reroof project for Georgia Pacific Corporation is the 52 story headquarters located in downtown Atlanta. The project was begun in the winter of 2010 with a total tear-off of the existing roofing materials.

The scope of work included removal of the existing roofing materials. Concrete restoration, new fall arrest anchors, structural steel, firestopping and a 3 ply modified bitumen system over tapered roof insulation were specified. New metal wall panels, lightning protection, elastomeric coatings, sealant and miscellaneous items completed the scope of work.

Merik conducted the condition assessment, specification development, construction drawings, construction contract administration, construction observation and final punchlist inspection.
