

Georgia Southern University Southern Courtyard Window Replacement

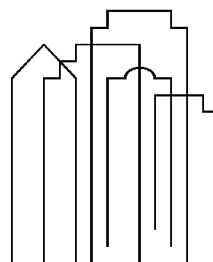

This project for Georgia Southern University includes a replacement of the window systems. The multi-story residential dormitory required replacement of all window units and interior sills.

The field mock-up specified allowed examination of sealant joints at frame to wall, seals at glass to frame before installation. The Contractors means of installation on all units was later verified against the standard of quality of the mock-up.

Field tests of mockup units can establish the standard of quality to be used throughout the work. Quality assurance testing at the completion of work verifies a successful project.
